News From Around PA

In 2014 AFL-CIO will target six states which currently have Republican governors. Their target list includes Governor Tom Corbett.

Commonwealth Court Judge Bernard McGinley has suspended the enforcement of the voter ID law for the November election. Both the state and ACLU readily agreed to the decision!

Braddock (Allegheny County) mayor is performing "marriages" for same-sex couples who have received marriage licenses from Montgomery County.

News from National Scene

A draft Defense Department memo says they may provide up to 10 days of leave to military personnel in same-sex relationships so they can travel to states where they can marry legally. "Marriage" would mean the same-sex "spouses" of military personnel would receive all benefits normally provided to a married military couple.

Because of the danger of transmission of the HIV virus the FDA bans blood donations from any man who has had sex with another man since 1981. Eight-two lawmakers have signed a letter to Department of Health and Human Services Secretary Kathleen Sebelius asking that the ban be lifted. Two Pennsylvanians - Allyson Schwartz & Matt Cartwright - signed the letter.

US Rep. Linda Sanchez has introduced the "Social Security Equality Act of 2013." It would confer spousal, survivor, and death benefits to homosexual couples who live in a state that recognizes same-sex "marriages" or civil unions.

Beginning October 1st

"Navigators" will explain Obamacare to Americans who need help wading through the quagmire created by the healthcare takeover. These navigators need no knowledge of insurance; the federal government requires no background checks, no fingerprinting, no verification of resume or education -- all this takes too much time and they have to quickly get as many people plugged into Obamacare as possible.. All information that is given to these "Navigators" is entered into the data center which is authorized to plug into several major federal bureaucracies, including the Departments of Defense, Health and Human Services, Social Security and IRS! PA gets $2.7 million of the $67 million pie for Navigators. _____
