News From Around PA

Pro-Life Slippery Rock University "Cemetery of the Innocents" display was recently destroyed with dozens of crosses flung about the area with a few turned upside down and a pro-choice banner stuck into the ground nearby.

The three major contenders in the Democratic primary for Pittsburgh mayor all support abortion and special rights for homosexuals. But Bill Peduto has received the endorsement of three "LGBT advocacy" groups.

A US District Judge has reinstated Geneva College's lawsuit against Obamacare. The school contends it must soon decide whether to drop its student health insurance plan before the final gov't rules are due in August.

Philadelphia gay bath house, Club Body Center, will reopen on May 17th with a new name -- Club Philadelphia. Doubtful that they've changed their policies on anonymous sex in the "club" though.

News from National Scene

The Department of Defense has officially recognized a transgender service member. The letter from the Navy official, dated May 2, read: 'Per your request the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System has been updated to show your gender as female effective April 12, 2013.' We don't know if he actually had sex change surgery or not.

HHS "compromise:" Plan B can sit on drugstore shelves next to condoms, spermicides or other women's health products — but to make the purchase, buyers must prove they're 15 or older at the cash register.

Activists groups want "homosexual couples treated the same as heterosexual couples in any immigration overhaul that addresses families and a spouse's ability to sponsor the legal immigration and residency of a spouse who is not a U.S. citizen." Senator Marco Rubio has said such an inclusion would cost his support.

The Boy Scouts have paid Faith and Freedom Coalition's Ralph Reed an undisclosed amount to arrange meetings and conference calls between Christian conservative leaders and BSA officials who support the pro-gay resolution being proposed.

AFA of PA encourages Christians, through education, to become involved in pro-family issues in their community, state and the nation.
