News From Around PA

Kermit Gosnell, the 'doctor' who ran the Philadelphia House of Horrors will finally go on trial on March 4th.

Construction of the LGBT senior-residence facility in Philadelphia is scheduled to begin this month. The proposed six-story building will be home to 56 one-bedroom units. State and city funding (tax dollars) will help pay for the project.

Penn State update: this week former President Graham Spanier was charged with perjury, obstruction, endangering the welfare of children, failure to properly report suspected abuse and conspiracy. Tim Curley and Gary Schultz face new charges of endangering the welfare of children, obstruction and conspiracy.

News from National Scene

The Military Times reports a 26-year-old lesbian deployed to Afghanistan reportedly brought along male hormones -- part of her ongoing sex change from female to male. (the new picture of the US military)

Students who identify as homosexual, bisexual, or transgender have a special scholarship program through the Point Foundation. Each scholarship, which is supplemented by a mentor program and other benefits, is valued at $25,000. Does any other scholarship program ask your sexuality?

Warning from Greg Quinlan, President of PFOX: The culture war is not slowing down; it's just beginning to gain steam as gay organizations turn to anti-heterosexual legislation, mandatory public approval of sodomy, federal funding of gay youth activist organizations & homosexual initiatives, required government training against "homophobia, heterosexism, and transphobia," etc., etc. This is more than a culture war; it is a war for our very own freedoms—a war for the character and future of our nation.

How important is this presidential election?

Here's an example: The roiling national debates over marriage and the Supreme Court may coincide, as the House of Representatives' legal group has asked the High Court to rule on the constitutionality of the Defense of Marriage Act. Whoever wins the presidential election on November 6th will probably get to nominate 2, 3, or 4 Supreme Court Justices. AFA of PA encourages Christians, through education, to become involved in pro-family issues in their community, state and the nation.
