News From Around PA

The football season at Central Bucks High School West in Doylestown has been cancelled as officials investigate allegations of torture and hazing.

Activist and US Marine Corps combat veteran Mike Whiter celebrated Philly's new lax marijuana laws by smoking a joint in the center of City Hall. He was simply fined $100 for publicly smoking pot rather than face arrest. Those in possession of less than 30 grams get a $25 fine. He noted Philly should be an example for all of PA.

Highmark Inc. wants to increase 2015 premiums by double-digits on its individual health policies, which nearly 180,000 people in PA bought under Obamacare a year ago.

State Senator Mike Stack may try to keep his seat even if the Wolf-Stack ticket wins. So he would be both Lt. Governor and State Senator from the 5th district.

Senator Daylin Leach has written a letter asking the PA District Attorneys Association not to prosecute offenses related to the medicinal use of marijuana.

News from National Scene

Camden, NJ became the first governing body in the state to pass a resolution in support of driving-privilege cards for New Jersey residents who cannot prove they are legal citizens.

Two Christian ministers who own an Idaho wedding chapel were told they had to either perform same-sex "weddings" or face jail time and up to a $1,000 fine. FYI last year Coeur d'Alene passed a homosexual special rights ordinance similar to PA's HB 300!

Colorado health authorities suggested banning many forms of edible marijuana, including brownies and cookies in order to take steps to protect children. The marijuana lobby got wind of it and the authorities immediately backed down.

The first openly "gay" NFL player, Michael Sam, has been let go by the Dallas Cowboys.

The National Science Foundation, a federal agency whose mission is to "promote the progress of science; to advance the national health, prosperity and welfare; and to secure the national defense," is funding a project using tax dollars to collect and analyze your Twitter data.
