News From Around PA

A slightly lower pass rate for women on a physical fitness test has prompted the Obama administration to sue the PA State Police.

Home School Legal Defense Association recently assisted a member family in the Seneca Valley School District after the superintendent asked them to complete a school census form that sought information beyond what state law requires.

PA tavern owners are not cashing in on new program that would license them to hold small games of chance.

News from National Scene

The American Humanist Association sent a letter to Chestatee High School officials in Albany, Georgia demanding that the football coaching staff stop participating in team prayers and that they remove all biblical references and religious messages from team documents. The next day more than 200 people showed up for an impromptu prayer rally in the middle of the school's football field!

Children who have entered the US illegally via the southern border are treated like first-class citizens. Examples include culturally sensitive music to special meals for the lactose intolerant. Dietitians scrutinize the menus each day to make sure they include enough whole grains but not whole milk. Counselors offer life skills classes in Spanish, and intensive English language training, including use of the Rosetta Stone program. Doctors and dentists treat the children at taxpayers' expense. The children also are guaranteed phone privileges, including the right to call back to their home countries.

The National Defense Panel is a congressional-mandated bipartisan commission that's co-chairs were appointed by Secretary of Defense Chuck Hagel. Its recent report found that president Barack Obama's Quadrennial Defense Review, military force reductions, and trillion-dollar defense budget cuts are dangerous — and will leave the country in a position where it is unable to respond to threats to our nation's security. This, the panel concluded, must be reversed as soon as possible.

More than 300,000 people who bought subsidized health insurance under Obamacare could lose it next month if they do not provide proof that they are living in the United States legally. AFA of PA encourages Christians, through education, to become involved in pro-family issues in their community, state and the nation.
