News from Around PA

TD Bank was the sponsor of an ad on NBC in the Philly area that promoted Drag Queen Story Hours as a “literacy program”!

Even though the PA Constitution says absentee ballots can be requested only for specific reasons (Article VII, Section 14(a)), the five Democrats on the PA Supreme Court ruled that no-excuse mail-in ballots are constitutional.

A video has surfaced from Central PA Pride Festival that shows a nearly naked man teaching a boy wearing a dress how to pole dance!

Warren County recently held its “pride” festival. Speakers included Rev. Dr. Richard McCarty, Mercyhurst University and Rev. Dr. Matthew Scott, Vicar of the Episcopal Mission of Warren.

News From National Scene

The 11th Circuit Court of Appeals has let stand the decision by a three-judge panel that struck down laws that banned talked therapy for gender-confused children and those with unwanted same-sex attraction.

Fifteen religious leaders, including pastors of the United Church of Christ and the Episcopal Church, three rabbis, a Buddhist lama, and a Unitarian Universalist minister, file a lawsuit to overturn Florida’s 15-week abortion ban claiming it violates freedom of religion and speech.

President Joe Biden signed an executive order that directs HHS Secretary Xavier Becerra to “consider actions to advance access to reproductive health care services, including, to the extent permitted by [f]ederal law, through Medicaid for patients traveling across [s]tate lines for medical care.”

Thirty million low-income students could go hungry if the Biden Administration withholds money for free and reduced meals. The threat is leveled at school districts that don’t have an open bathroom/locker room policy for “transgender” kids.

After a five-year battle the Christian flag was finally raised over Boston! The US

Supreme Court ruled unanimously that Boston was practicing viewpoint discrimination against Camp Constitution’s request to fly the Christian flag while approving 248 other requests from organizations to fly their flag on the Boston City Hall Plaza public forum flagpole.

The pro-life movement suffered a crushing defeat in Kansas with the defeat of their Life Amendment, which said there was no constitutional right to abortion. Planned Parenthood and others pumped millions of dollars into defeating the amendment. Leftists, including those in the White House, are claiming the Kansas vote proves Americans want abortion legal. Pro-lifers need to realize the fight for life has only just begun!
