

1. Why are you running for Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania?

I am running for Lieutenant Governor to support an agenda for an accountable, responsive government which will require outcome-based spending practices and measurements. I am running to transform the business climate in our state to one that is inviting and competitive in the U.S. and internationally. I am running to do my part to ensure that my family, and every Pennsylvania family, for generations to come, can live, work, and raise their families in a climate of conservative family values, plentiful jobs, a low crime rate, with an opportunity to live a better life than my generation.

2. In your view, what is the role of Lieutenant Governor?

The role of Lieutenant Governor would include fulfilling the duties of the Governor if he/she is out of state or unavailable. As President of the Senate, ensure decorum and fairness in proceedings, breaking down partisan barriers. Research and implement Best Practices to Pennsylvania Board of Pardons, insuring fair and non-discriminatory practices and rapid, well-researched recommendations sent to the Governor. Implement best practices to Emergency Services. Implement a plan to address the opioid crisis, which includes the many human services which are delivered to this population, including corrections. Produce a climate that is competitive in business development, including lower corporate taxes, an improved infrastructure system, and streamlined business development services. At all times, conduct myself in a manner consistent with my faith, family morals and values.

3. If you win the Lieutenant Governor race, how will you use that position to better the lives of Pennsylvanians?

If elected Lieutenant Governor, I would work tirelessly to grow our economy, and lower taxes so that all Pennsylvanians have an opportunity to work and provide for themselves and their families. I will address the opioid crisis that is changing the very fabric of our communities. I would be a strong proponent of physical wellness to improve the well-being of Pennsylvanians, and reduce future Medicaid obligations. I would educate Pennsylvanians on financial wellness so that individuals understand how to provide for themselves, reducing government dependence. I would work to transform human services to encourage personal responsibility and self sufficiency.
