

Birth sex only for sports and locker rooms. I have great compassion for anyone who struggles with gender identity. Tolerance is needed but not at the expense of the rights of others. It is naive to think that because someone is different that everyone else should give up their rights. Rest rooms and locker rooms are very vulnerable places for females and need to be safe.

Age appropriate material is the sane approach. Do not ban a book because it goes against someone's belief. Education should have the goal of enlightening and challenging the mind but some things such as pornography have no place in the classroom. The school should not be "promoting" some of the current issues we face but follow the science. If the subject will be controversial seek parental consent.

Questions 14 through 20 are all a strong yes. The school does not "own" the students as in China or Russia, parents guide their children. In cases of abuse and neglect every teacher is a mandated reporter.
