New Jersey Congressman

Chris Smith says the investigation into the University of Pittsburgh's use of baby body parts in research was a whitewash. It did not address many questions including whether U Pitt used the body parts of babies who were born alive and died when their organs were harvested.

Nine of Pennsylvania's seventeen freestanding abortion clinics failed at least one inspection last year. Six of those were Planned Parenthood facilities.

Annual abortions in PA have increased 7 percent since 2017 -- 88 abortions per day.

The University of Pennsylvania admitted that the Pfizer/BioNTech and Moderna COVID 19 mRNA vaccines both use licensed U Penn technology. Thus, U Penn, Dr. Weissman and Dr. Kariko have received significant financial benefit in the sale of these products.

Dr. David Prentice, the vice president of the Charlotte

Lozier Institute and a medical researcher, said the University of Pittsburgh investigation, which was commissioned by the university, was too narrow. He also noted that there is no need to use unethically obtained tissue from aborted babies in scientific research.

News From National Scene
