News from Around PA

The Episcopal Church is very pro-LGBTQ, but that's not enough for some in PA. The LGBTQIA+ Committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania was recently formed. Committee chair Alex Ames says, "acceptance is a starting point. We need to move in a direction of active welcome and affirmation and the creation of safe and inclusive spaces and opportunities for the involvement and the leadership of LGBTQIA+ people."

Governor Wolf has sued the legislature arguing that they "loaded multiple unrelated constitutional amendments into a joint resolution and rammed the bill through". But Wolf's main concern is that one of those amendments would allow the voters to decide whether taxpayer dollars should be used to perform abortions!

Philly Human Rights Commission extended "protections" to youth who identify as transgender. This impacts charter schools, daycares, after school programs and sports leagues.

News From National Scene

Cherry Hill Public Library (New Jersey) recently hosted a Drag Queen Story Hour. Ian Morrison, aka Brittany Lynn read stories to children while in drag. According to Morrison, more than 60 children and their parents attended to hear him read a "children's story promoting literacy and diversity".

Democrats in the US House and US Senate have introduced a bill that places term limits on US Supreme Court Justices. It would allow the President to nominate a justice twice during his term, in the first and third years in office, and limit the acting authority of judges to 18 years, after which their status would be changed to "senior" and they would be unable to vote. Perhaps they should read Article III, Section One of the US Constitution!!

Miami-Dade, FL School Board rejects "Comprehensive Health Skills" curriculum which are explicit sex ed books for children. This is on the heels of the Parental Rights in Education bill becoming law.

Speaking at an American Federation of Teachers Conference, First Lady Jill Biden stressed the need to ban AR-15 assault-style weapons, protect abortion rights, make community college free, and reduce the cost of childcare. She went on to say, "Yes, we need to vote in races at every single level, and we need to remember that voting is the bare minimum. We have to get involved in the local governments . . . and use our teacher voices" in promoting political activism.

The "Queer All School Year" calendar was distributed to teachers in the LA Unified School District. It contains suggested monthly activities to promote the LGBTQ agenda.
