In Philadelphia a “transmasculine” drag performer is upset that drag queens are getting more attention than “drag kings”. He feels their lack of opportunities to perform is a direct result of the media spotlight on drag queens.

According to the Daily Pennsylvanian, the University of Pennsylvania student newspaper, the school is looking for a “Vice Provost for Climate Science, Policy, and Action”. The school has identified fighting climate change as a core part of its “strategic framework.”

Always attempting to shine a light on the “role” of the LGBTQ crowd during the Revolution: The Museum of the American Revolution in Philly will host a launch party for historian Dr. John Gilbert McCurdy’s new book “Vicious and Immoral: Homosexuality, the American Revolution, and the Trials of Robert Newburgh.” McCurdy says it is, “the first book to situate LGBTQ+ people at the creation of the United States. As such, it provides a more inclusive retelling of the American Revolution at the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of our nation.” FYI Newburgh was a British chaplain who never claimed to be homosexual!

From National Scene

A “transwoman” (biological male) has become Miss Maryland.

Obviously, he has had all the surgeries and hormones and will be required to take them the rest of his life. He’s also married to a male military officer.

The Old State Saloon in Idaho has announced June as “Heterosexual Awesomeness Month.”

Needless to say, there has been pushback! The Idaho Statesman said, “This marketing gimmick is an insecure reaction to LGBTQ+ Pride Month.”

The US State Department has issued millions of dollars in federal grants (our tax dollars) to “celebrate pride” in Australia, the Czech Republic, and Bulgaria. Their Pride theme for 2024 is “Pride and Protection: Human Rights for LGBTQI+ Persons around the World.”

Texas Children’s Hospital had proudly announced its “gender affirming care” policies for minors, but amid public pressure the CEO announced they would end the surgeries. However, Eithan Haim, a surgeon in the residency program, blew the whistle stating that several doctors were still performing the surgeries. Haim contacted Christopher Rufo, Senior Fellow at the Manhattan Institute, who wrote an article with the story. The DOJ is going after Haim and he has been indicted on four felony counts of violating HIPAA, even though no personal information was revealed to Rufo or during any of the other interviews he has done.
